

Garden Gate and Stone Fence

Length 8m, Stone-built

It consists of a fence formed with piled-up Izu stone and an arched gate.

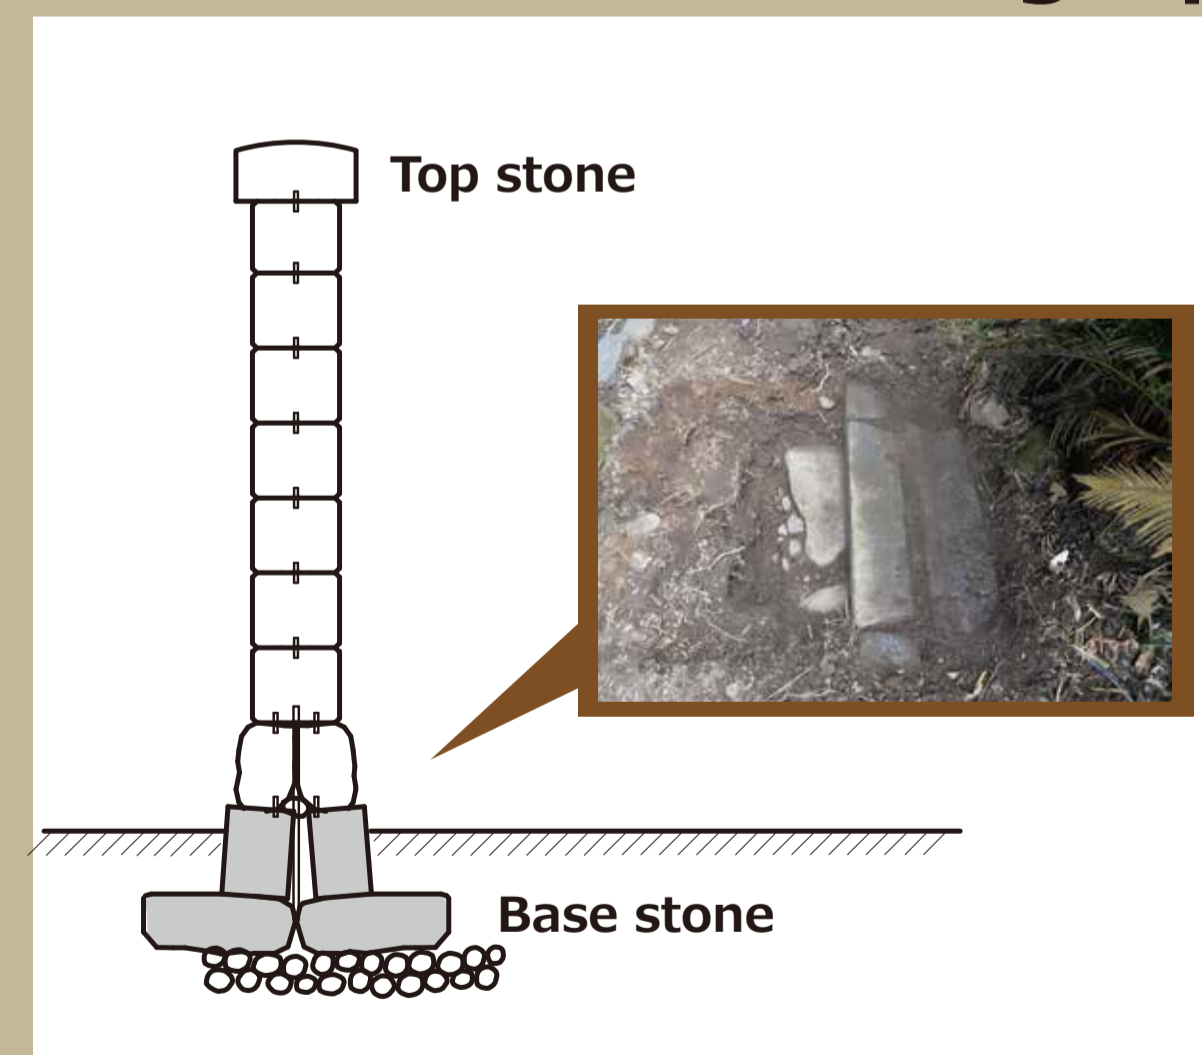

The fence is formed with eight layers of Izu stone on the foundation, which has the same basis as the exterior wall.

It has the characteristic shape of the Japanese arching roof "Mukuri-Hafujou", where capstones are placed along the arch.

It is one of the main components of the house structure to separate the entrance and exit routes of the house residents and important guests.
